OBJECTIVE

Every organization always looks after selective individuals who do have special skills different from the others. So here I am seeking the best opportunity, motivated, goal oriented. My time always through my work, reliable anytime, day or occasion. I am looking to encounter a role that is both fulfilling and competitive. I learned that I must feel comfortable doing the uncomfortable. I always wanted to do the best and sometimes doing your best in not good enough, because you need to know what to do, then do it the best, that's why I'm seeking for a Full time position as an accountant to help the organization filling financial statement and maintain its records properly.
