SOFT SKILLS

Communication Skills & Teamwork

Working as a book salesman, I developed communication skills and used them to establish selling relationships with customers.

As a programming instructor communication skills are a very important part of each lesson.

Additionally, during projects and internships I am a very effective part of the team.

Organizational & Time Management Skills

Keeping up with deadlines while working part time jobs and taking part in various university projects in addition to organizing book displays while working as a book salesman helped me put my time management and organizational skills to use.

Good Listener

I found that being a good listener is essential during internships.
