PROFILE SUMMARY

A motivated, passionate developer with a drive for creating innovative solutions. Looking to pursue a career in development where I will have the chance to always dare forward and improve my skill set. As an EMS Red Cross volunteer, I am always dealing with critical scenarios that require strong team work and immediate action under pressure. This exposure has been instrumental in strengthening my interpersonal communication skills and flexibility in approaching and dealing with people from diverse backgrounds. From my past experiences to my self-driven passion for writing, critical thinking has been vital in helping me navigate projects with self-confidence to achieve concrete goals on strict deadlines.
