ACTIVITIES

I am someone that's very active and dynamic. I like the change and the speed, the analysis and the reward. I practice sports and love the adrenaline it gives me. That's what I look for in any activity I put myself in, the adrenaline. When something needs to get done, it gets done. Some time ago, I volunteered in a fundraising organization for families that got affected by the Beirut blast and volunteered in the Lebanese red cross for a month. I also participated in 2 internships involving the organization and management of a dental clinic back in 2018 and is currently participating in Change The World clubs in the university such as what I cited in the EDUCATION field.
