JENNIFER FARES

Rmeileh, Lebanon   76/785339 (Cell)   Jennifer Fares   jennifer.fares@hotmail.com

OBJECTIVE

As a final-year Software Engineering student, I am seeking a part-time position where I can apply my technical skills in real-world projects. With experience in mobile app development, database management, and front-end technologies, With experience in mobile app development, database management, and front-end technologies, I am committed to contributing to a dynamic team while continuing to advance my professional growth.

EDUCATION

Saint Joseph University, Lebanon

● Masters in Computer and Communication Engineering, software development.

Saint Joseph School, Saida, Lebanon, High School Diploma.

EXPERIENCE

Fattal Group, two months internship, (July-August 2023)

- Developed the front-end of a mobile application using Flutter, focusing on user interface design and responsiveness.
- Created the SQLite database for the app, ensuring data integrity and optimal performance.
- Collaborated with the development team to implement new features and functionalities based on project requirements.
- Gained foundational knowledge in marketing, including customer service, merchandising, and retail strategies and other.

Dar el Handasah, a month and a half,(July-August 2024)

- Configured and managed network setups using MikroTik routers
- Research Business Process Management Systems (BPMS) and DevSecOps
- Managed virtual environments using VMware ESX, enhancing skills in virtualization and resource optimization.
- Developed full-stack web applications using the MERN stack React JS and Mongo DB, integrating front-end and back-end technologies seamlessly.
- Completed a Project Management Kickoff course, gaining foundational skills in project planning, execution, and stakeholder management

SKILLS AND ACTIVITIES

Fluency in Arabic, French, English
Programming Languages: Python, Java,Scala, C++, HTML/CSS, JavaScript,.
Hobbies: Dancing, Swimming, Reading