Profile

My name is Bahaa Al Sayegh. I'm a recent Computer Communication Engineering graduate from Lebanese International University. I've been working on my senior project last 4 months, and I'm excited to find my first web application that can help our society. I'm a qualified engineer with less than one year of experience. I'm looking for a role that uses my skills and develops them further, but I have excellent organisational and planning skills in another fields . I'm flexible about working hours and can work shifts.
