ABOUT ME

People perceive me as knowledgeable, perhaps reliable. But in my opinion, it's about perspective. Isn't everything a perception? Don't we differ very much in how we see the world? Even in our very own language, we form a unique culture. Now, following the Manuscript of Language, who am I? I'm a regular 44-year-old with enough ambition to make any possible dream true.

Graphologically I tend to enjoy drawing to trigger magic in me. Phonetically, I fail to explain but I can find a song that can. Syntactically speaking, I Live My Life My Way.

Now, why dig into semantics when I already understood your Intended Meaning?

Away from my Chomskyan obsession, Football takes my free time as I find peace in it. Finally and as Grice wouldn't let me speak any further, I have too much to aim for, starting with a thesis. I'm Fadi and this is a part of my perception.
