COURSES

Html, CSS and JavaScript

Feb 2023

I'm learning web development and am delighted to be able to start working on HTML projects as soon as possible.

Java

Apr 2022

During the pandemic, I learned everything I knew about Java and object-oriented programming at home and the rest at my institute, which helped me practice and solve several Java problems.

Python

May 2022

I learned Python entirely on my own, without any other aid.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Assembled a development team to assist with a side project that would connect customers who were on the search for hair transplants or any other aesthetic operations with specialized doctors (the website is not live yet and is still a work in progress).
- Worked on a Shopify e-commerce site that allows customers to purchase online exercises as soon as payment is accepted via Whish or OMT (www.levelup.com). Please keep in mind that the website is still in development and is not yet complete.
