PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Enthusiastic and adaptable trainee with a solid grasp of Python, R language, data science, machine learning, and deep learning techniques. Currently immersing myself in the cutting-edge domains of AI health and AI ethics to deepen my understanding of their impact on society and healthcare. My academic and hands-on exposure to AI technologies, coupled with a proactive approach to continuous learning, positions me as a dedicated candidate for an AI internship.

Accomplished in utilizing machine learning libraries like TensorFlow and PyTorch, and adept at data analysis with tools like SQL and R. Actively engaging in collaborative research and contributing to a blog to simplify complex AI concepts. Eager to leverage my skills and theoretical knowledge in a professional setting, I am keen on contributing to groundbreaking AI projects while gaining hands-on experience in real-world applications. With strong communication, problem-solving, and an ethical mindset, I am prepared to contribute meaningfully to AI initiatives that prioritize societal welfare and technological advancement.
