I believe that I am a leader on and off the court. As a young coordinator, I've worked on multiple sports events in athlete development, which has made me a fast learner and adaptable to diverse situations. I am particularly taken with challenges that involve problem-solving, leadership, teamwork, and discipline. I aim to become a proactive individual by developing my knowledge and skill set primarily at the intersection of sports and technology. I am eager to continue learning and contributing to dynamic, team-oriented environments.
