APPLICATION QUESTIONS

Who are you?

I am a passionate Power BI Data Analyst who thrives on transforming data into meaningful insights. My background in computer science and data analytics has allowed me to bridge the gap between technical systems and business strategy, delivering value through smart, data-driven solutions.

How would you define your core value?

My core value is continuous improvement — both in myself and the systems I work on. I believe in accuracy, collaboration, and innovation, ensuring every analysis contributes to smarter business decisions.

What do you look for in your career?

I seek to build a long-term career in business intelligence, focusing on data modeling, visualization, and analytics innovation. My goal is to contribute to a data-driven culture where insights translate into measurable business growth.

A little about me:

I'm a detail-oriented professional who enjoys solving complex data challenges. Outside of work, I'm constantly learning — exploring new BI tools, improving my Python analytics skills, and experimenting with dashboard design. I'm motivated by results and passionate about growth.
