

OBJECTIVE

Starting with only my knowledge, I aim to achieve success and reach the skies. The journey for a thousand miles begins with a step. My current objective is to find my way in linking the theory of what I am studying to real life; This is what is also known as developing knowledge to become experience. I, hence, am aiming to use every chance I get to learn, and want to start with internships, whether paid or not. Yes, I currently don't have the experience, but I surely do have the capabilities to excel within my field.
